2026 Price List – effective from Monday 30th March

It is with great pleasure that we launch our new Price List for 2026. As always, we remain committed to sourcing outstanding wines with distinctive character across every tier of our portfolio. We trust these selections will not only enhance your list but also help your wine offering stand out with individuality and distinction.

We know that running a business today comes with rising costs, which is why we are pleased to say our new price list has been carefully managed to stay below the current level of inflation. Once again, we're delivering outstanding quality, service and exceptional value across the board, keeping our offerings highly competitive and helping you get the most from every level of your wine list.

Today's wine consumers are more informed than ever, and the quality of winemaking around the world has never been higher. In such a competitive market, it's essential to have a wine selection that sets itself apart and reflects both your expertise and the adventurous tastes of today's curious drinkers. With this in mind, please do take the opportunity to connect and consult with our experienced Regional Sales Managers for tailored advice on how to elevate your list, drive interest and add value to your wine sales.

How to create a distinctive wine offering - 5 top tips from our Sales Managers:

Offer exciting wines by the glass - Premium and interesting wines by the glass encourage experimentation and upselling. Ensure you offer textural and aromatic wine styles where consumer interest is currently on the rise. A short, engaging description can transform a listing from ordinary to memorable and ensure customers continue to return for more.

Keep it focused and easy to navigate - A tightly edited list feels confident. Organise it clearly (by style, flavour profile, or food pairing rather than just region) so customers can choose comfortably without feeling overwhelmed.

Balance classics and champion emerging regions and styles - Keep well-known regions for reassurance, but add a few unexpected choices - emerging regions, indigenous grape varieties or small producers. These become talking points at the table and differentiate you from competitors, keeping your list fresh and showing you're ahead of the curve.

Reflect modern drinking trends - Today many consumers are seeking sustainable and lower-intervention wines, lighter fresher styles and quality low or no-alcohol options - so a modern list should reflect the way people are drinking now.

Price smartly for profit and perception - Structure your pricing with accessible entry points, strong mid-range volume drivers, a clear premium progression and strategic trade-up options - creating a wine list that enhances any dining experience while delivering a consistent margin.

Exciting new additions to explore this year include:

Domaine Coudoulet, Languedoc, France - Exceptional quality wines with a striking presentation to match! The eclectic varietal range includes - Pinot Gris, Assyrtiko-Verdejo, Cinsault, Petit Verdot, Petite Syrah and Minervois.

Podere Don Cataldo, Puglia, Italy - With attention grabbing and distinctive bottle designs - Negromaro Bianco and Rosato.

Angelo Rocca & Figli, Puglia, Italy - Combining the richness of Puglia with Italian heritage and modern refinement. Amaronero and Negromaro Appasimento are added to this year's list.

Orme di Lava, Basilicata, Italy - With a unique identity that speaks of their volcanic origin. The red delivers bold dark fruit and smoky minerality - the white has a refined structure with unmistakable regional character.

Malblanc, White Malbec - Colchagua Valley, Chile - Everyone loves Malbec and your repeat customers will be both tempted and intrigued by this unique, well priced white wine with its layered fruit and a refined textural mouth-feel.

Domaine Simonnet-Febvre, Burgundy, France - Crémant de Bourgogne 'P100' Blanc de Noirs - one of the oldest estates in the Chablis area and the only producer there still making Crémant de Bourgogne - top of the range and stunning!

Bordeaux - Don't forget we are specialists in Bordeaux! Amongst many other fine clarets we have added the attractive, well-structured and precise Tempo d'Angélus 2023 Bordeaux Rouge to this year's list.

Here's to a prosperous and rewarding year ahead, and we look forward to supporting your ongoing success.

CHABLIS

We are pleased to focus mainly on two small domaines. Domaine Sébastien Dampt is a family-run estate in Chablis, where Sébastien Dampt represents the fifth generation of winemakers. Grown on the region's classic Kimmeridgian soils, the domaine produces precise, mineral-driven wines that express the freshness and purity typical of Chablis.

Domaine Vrignaud is a richer style, leaving his wines longer on the lees and bottling later. The wines still maintain that stoney freshness on the finish, and the range is now all organic because he believes it allows him to make better wines

BURGUNDY

Our selection of Burgundy includes many famous names such as Etienne Sauzet and Patrick Javillier which hardly need any introduction. Gerard Thomas is well known for making some of the finest St Aubin which even today represents one of the best value white Burgundies you can buy.

We also work with a number of small family owned domaines who we believe are producing as fine wines as any of the well known producers.

Maldant Pauvelot are Cote de Beaune specialists and tend to harvest later than neighbours resulting in a generous style. Domaine de Beauregard are a brother and sister based in the lesser know Cotes de Couchois, which lies at the southern end of the Cote de Beaune. Their wines are fantastic value and have real character and longevity.

In the Maconnais, Domaine Normand are a husband and wife team who have grown their vineyard steadily. Now releasing their own fully-certified organic wines, they shine with the fruit of the Macon whilst still demonstrating Burgundian sophistication.

TENUTA RAPITALA' - SICILY

Tenuta Rapitalà is a historic estate and one of those at the forefront of Sicily's ascendance to quality rather than quantity. Set on the rolling hills between Camporeale and Alcamo, where clay and sand rich soils at 300-600 m altitude produce elegant, terroirdriven Sicilian wines shaped by both native and French varieties. Rebuilt in the late 1960s by Hugues de la Gatinais and Gigi Guarrasi, the estate now farms over 170 ha parcel by parcel, crafting refined expressions that balance Sicilian warmth with French influenced precision.

CROOKED MICK

Crooked Mick is a legendary figure of Australian bush folklore, a larger than life hero of the mythical outback station known as the Speewah, a place where everything is exaggerated beyond belief. After shearing more sheep than any man could dream of, wrestling cyclones or kicking crocodiles to the moon (some of the many fictional feats in the tales) Mick would need a good glass of wine to accompany his pies he baked that were so light they blew away!

DIATOMISTS

Diatomists

Diatomists is a modern, terroir driven sherry project founded by three friends who focus on grower wines and the exceptional albariza soils of Jerez. The name refers to diatoms, microscopic fossilised marine algae that make up much of the region's albariza; their porosity and mineral content are key to vine health and the concentration of Palomino and Pedro Ximénez grapes. Diatomists is part of a new movement realigning sherry back to vineyard expression rather than purely solera ageing, emphasising fruit purity, site specificity and sustainable practices, and partnering with top bodegas including El Maestro Sierra for maturation.

ARMAGNAC - JANNEAU

Janneau is one of Armagnac's oldest and most historically influential houses, founded in 1851. Over four generations the family shaped the development and prestige of Armagnac, and today Janneau remains one of the region's largest and most important producers, performing distillation, ageing and bottling entirely within the AOC—a rarity among Armagnac houses. They are also one of only three Armagnac producers using both pot still (double distillation) and continuous Armagnac stills, enabling blends with exceptional depth and aromatic precision.
